Important Information

A guardian who holds money or other property for a child as a trustee under section 178 of the Family Law Act must comply with section 15.2 of the Trustee Act which states that "a trustee must exercise the care, skill, diligence and judgment that a prudent investor would exercise in making investments".

Money or other property held by the guardian belongs to the child. The guardian holds and protects it and cannot personally benefit from it. The guardian cannot borrow any of the money or other property and lend it to anyone else. The guardian cannot give it to anybody else to hold as a trustee other than to the person replacing him or her as guardian.

When the guardian invests a child's money or other property, the guardian must ensure that the investment is registered in the name of the trust or on behalf of the child. A bank, credit union or trust company can assist the guardian in setting up a trust account.

Only the guardian can make a decision about whether to spend any of the income or capital or both. The money or other property can only be used for the sole benefit of the child.

The guardian is accountable for his or her management of the money or other property and must keep a record of all transactions, including all financial statements detailing income earned by the money or other property and a record of all money spent.
