Expressions of Interest

The Partnership

3405 Willingdon Avenue "Willingdon Lands" is owned by a Partnership comprising of the Musqueam Indian Band, Tsleil-Waututh Nation, and Aquilini Development.

The Project

The Willingdon Lands is a 40-acre parcel located at the corner of Willingdon Avenue and Canada Way, West of BCIT. The site is currently envisioned to be a dynamic mixed-use community with a strong employment base.

Scope

The partnership is looking to engage a Public Art Consultant as part of the Rezoning Process with the City of Burnaby. The Art Consultant will be responsible for guiding the project in satisfying the partnership's and the City of Burnaby's requirements for Public Art on the site.

This will include but is not limited to:

- Establishing protocols and procedures to determine artist selection.
- Working with the selected artist and liaising with the Partnership and Aquilini Development to facilitate their work.
- Developing and assisting with the creation and execution of an Artist Contract.
- Supporting the artist from selection through installation.

Interested?

If you are interested in learning more about this opportunity, we would ask for you to reach out to the appropriate member of our team by January 29th, 2021.

Make sure to look out for the yellow hyperlink which will take you to the new MIB Careers page.

The screenshot shows the Musqueam Indian Band website's career page. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for "BAND HOME", "BAND CAREERS", and "OPENINGS". Below this is a "Job Search" section with a search bar and a "Search" button. The search results display a job posting titled "Casual Employment Opportunities at MIB". The posting includes the location "Main Office, 6735 Salish Drive, Vancouver, BC, CAN", the date "Posted: Wednesday, December 16, 2020", and a brief description of the position. The job requires a valid Class 5 driver's license and involves administrative services. The posting is identified as "Req #16". At the bottom of the job listing, there are links for "Apply" and "Share".

We are currently seeking casual applications in order to rebuild the MIB casual list. Please resubmit any application you may have submitted over the past year.

The paper application MIB had for casual employees is now embedded in the job posting. Once you click "Apply Now" you will be prompted to fill out an application that requires a resume upload, current contact information, confirmation of availability, relevant work experience, references, and areas of interest to work in.

We look forward to your applications, and would love for you to join our team! If you have any questions about the application process, please contact:

"Journey into the Collections" with First Event of New MOA Online Series

We're kicking off a new online MOA series, The Work We Do, with MOA's Collections Care and Management team as we follow a recently donated acquisition—a contemporary Salish weaving by Barbara Marks McCoy—on its path into the MOA Collection.

The Work We Do series focuses on the work we do at the Museum of Anthropology, the community members we work with, and the shared interests that bring us together. Throughout the series, we listen to a range of voices from diverse communities guiding us towards meaningful collaborations and ways of understanding. Each event includes a live discussion and Q+A.

MOA Minds: Watch the Latest Episode

In this episode of MOA Minds, Anthony Shelton and Laura Osorio Sunnucks discuss their collaboration on MOA's 2018 exhibition, Arts of Resistance: Politics and the Past in Latin America. Their reflections provide a unique look into Latin American politics through the lens of contemporary art, field research and collections.

MOA Minds is a video series that shares the different voices and perspectives that create an environment that simultaneously preserves the past, celebrates the present, and helps pave the path into the future.

A new feature exhibition opens at MOA next month! A Future for Memory: Art and Life After the Great East Japan Earthquake addresses how we deal with memory when our physical surroundings are drastically altered and shows how regional disasters have global relevance. There is a future for memory through connections that will be passed on for generations to come.

Creek Closed for Ceremonial Baths

Musqueam Creek Surface Water Monitoring

The Musqueam creek remains closed, since 2019, due to E.coli and Fecal contamination in the water that is a danger to humans and pets.

Animal and human fecal contamination should not exceed 200 E. Coli per 100 milliliters of water, according to Vancouver Coastal Health.

Due to the pandemic, the Creek monitoring didn't occur, and Musqueam Lands Dept. is working to revive the creek monitoring work, as a top priority, with support of Indigenous Services Canada (formerly INAC), to determine the sources of the contamination leaching into Musqueam Creek.
