IR#2 Master Planning—Community Design Workshop

Management of Musqueam Archaeological Resources

təmtem? (when?): Tuesday, June 14th, 2022; 4:00 pm - 5:30 pm

ni? ʔəncə? (where?): Musqueam Cultural Centre, 4000 Musqueam Ave

stem? (what?): Archaeology Table Talks Session led by Musqueam Archaeology and Archives

We would like to hear from you!

- How would you like to see archaeological sites managed? What is important to you?
- Is there any information you heard or know of about how best to handle the many archaeological sites in Musqueam territory?

This knowledge will guide the works on Musqueam's IR#2 but also in the rest of the territory.

SNACKS AND REFRESHMENTS PROVIDED!!!

Background Information:

Construction can have impacts on archaeological sites in the territory. Musqueam tries to work with developers to avoid impacts but impacts are not always avoidable.

In the case of IR#2 the community needs housing but this will mean impacting archaeological sites, how do we do this in the best way?

If there are any specific archaeology topics you would like to hear about please email us at:

“The New Relationship Trust Foundation (NRTF) is pleased to announce that the first call for 2022-2023 Scholarships and Bursaries is now available for First Nations students from British Columbia (BC).

Contributions from NRTs generous Partners allowed the NRT Foundation to support over 280 Indigenous students with Scholarships and Bursaries in 2021-22. Almost all Indigenous students face financial barriers while attending post-secondary school and the NRT Foundation’s Scholarship and Bursary program eases financial struggles so students can focus on the studies and excel. “

For the 2022-23 year the NRT Foundation has partnered with organizations interested in advancing Indigenous educational success and will be administering awards on behalf of:

- New Relationship Trust      - First Nations Health Authority      - Keegan Combes Memorial Awards
- Drillwell Enterprises      - Peace Hills Trust      - BC Council of Forest Industries
- Coastal GasLink      - Technical Safety British Columbia      - Andrea Reimer Award
- Indigenous Leaders Scholarship

To apply for these awards Students only need to submit an application to the NRT Foundation.

For more information and to submit your application please visit: <https://www.nrtf.ca/apply-for-funding/>

NRT Foundation first call applications are due June 24 at 4:30pm PST

COMMUNITY HEALTH COVID-19 UPDATE:

The Musqueam Health Department Raise our Hands & say hay čx<sup>w</sup> qə to our Musqueam Covid Liaisons; Luke Mathison, Daytime Liaison, & Danielle Harkey, Evening/Weekend Liaison!

The Musqueam Covid Liaisons were often the first point of contact for band members who needed information, felt anxious if they were recently exposed, or wanted assistance while isolating with groceries and/or other essentials. The Liaisons took on volumes of calls, texts and emails 7 days a week, provided up to date information, assistance and reassurance to families within Musqueam and living away from home. Especially following the holidays of this year, where Musqueam had its largest surge of Covid cases, assisting the Health Department with contact tracing and keeping ongoing information regarding the Covid-19 situation within our community & arranging getting test kits to those requesting it.

The province has moved away from many of the Public Health Restrictions earlier this year; the Health Department saw the need to extend the support of the Liaisons and see how the trend continued in Musqueam. We are happy to announce, that our Covid cases have seen a sharp decline since the end of April, and into May.

THE COVID LIAISONS HAVE COMPLETED THEIR CONTRACT AS OF JUNE 10TH, SUPPORTS WILL CONCLUDE FOR THE TIME BEING. IF YOU NEED A COVID TEST PLEASE SEE THE FOLLOWING:

- Covid test kits are available Rapid antigen testing kits are free at pharmacies. Local pharmacies such as Southlands, Shoppers Drug Mart, & London Drugs.
- There is NO need to test for clearance. Some people can continue to test positive for months after contracting Covid-19, but are not contagious to others.
- COVID-19 Vaccine's: Get your booster dose | Rapid antigen testing kits are free at pharmacies. Current eligibility: Seniors and Indigenous people. Book an appointment for your second booster if you are: 70 years and older or 55 years and older and Indigenous. *Notify booking clerk you are Indigenous & over 55.

SAFE DRINKING WATER MONITORING PROGRAM

Charlene Campbell-Wood

OUR MISSION, VISION AND GOALS

OUR MISSION

We will educate the leaders of today and tomorrow about drinking water quality issues to realize our goal of safe drinking water being available to every Canadian.

OUR VISION

To reaffirm and promote all people's right to safe drinking water. With a focus on developing partnerships with rural communities throughout Canada and around the world, we intend to effect change at the municipal, provincial, and federal levels as well as within civil society and industries involved in the protection and production of public water supplies.

We will deliver high quality, hands-on educational programs to thousands of classrooms in order to educate students, the leaders of tomorrow, about drinking water quality issues and solutions.

OUR GOALS

Our vision will be reached in Canada when the following goals have been achieved:

- National drinking water regulations are implemented and enforced, resulting in all communities in Canada having access to truly safe drinking water.
- The federal government of Canada recognizes at the United Nations that water is a basic human right.

SDWF is a registered Canadian charity. Its primary purpose is to educate community leaders, politicians, engineers, health officials, students and the general public about drinking water quality issues and solutions. The SDWF accomplishes this by developing and distributing high quality, hands-on educational programs to thousands of schools, delivering webinars, and maintaining a massive website with lots of information available free of charge.

SDWF is independent from municipal, provincial and federal governments and led by a Board of Directors.

SDWF emphasizes sound solutions to poor quality water.

Thursday June 16th 10:30am – noon. @ The NEST, Great North Hall, UBC

Community Access to Residential School Records

On May 27, 2021, Tk'emlups te Secwepemc issued a statement that preliminary findings from a ground-penetrating radar specialist indicated the presence of the remains of 215 bodies on the grounds of the former Kamloops Indian Residential School. Since this first preliminary report, a number of other Nations have released similar findings.

In 2019, the BC Archives acquired the records of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, a religious order that operated ten residential schools in British Columbia. Using Article 31 of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples as a guiding principle (Indigenous peoples have the right to maintain, control, protect and develop their cultural heritage, traditional knowledge and traditional cultural expressions, as well as ... their intellectual property over such cultural heritage, traditional knowledge, and traditional cultural expressions), the need to include community members in the processing of the records was prioritised in the work plan of the archivist. The importance of this approach has been confirmed with the findings of recent months.

Access to the information contained in the records relating to Residential Schools is vital for survivors, relatives, and communities to know what happened at the schools, and to help with the process of healing. Made up of archivists from Tk'emlups te Secwepemc, the Ktunaxa Nation, the Squamish Nation, and the BC Archives, this panel will explore the methods being employed to transfer these important records, and the questions and concerns being address as part of this work, particularly concerning restrictions, access and use protocols.

Thursday June 16th, 1:30 – 3:00 @ The Nest, Room 23609, UBC

Documenting Affect and Harm: Decolonizing the Archive as Communities of Self

This session will discuss an Indigenous SNAC (Social Networks and Archival Context) edit-a-thon aimed at improving discovery of Indigenous archival material dispersed to multiple (often colonial) repositories, and improving the SNAC platform's representation of Indigenous entities. Working with an Indigenous Advisory Board over the course of six months, the project team began exploring best practices around entities in SNAC for Indigenous, Native American, Alaskan Native, Native Hawaiian, or First Nations individuals and Nations, as well as for colonial actors and institutions whose records hold relevance for Indigenous researchers. The session will discuss outcomes, such as a code of conduct and a style guide, as well as several technical and cultural suggestions made by Advisory Board members and participants to improve the utility of SNAC for Indigenous communities engaged in "transformative practice" in SNAC in the future.

Saturday June 18th, 10:30am-12:00pm @ the NEST, Great Hall North, UBC

Documenting Community

In the "Documenting Community" session, three papers will describe projects that take different approaches to community outreach that work to make archives accessible and relevant. The first will discuss applying Jamie Lee's Queer'ed Archival Methodology to create an online archival space for queers of Iranian and Afghan descent to show how this practice has been grounded in theory and examine the potential of this approach to empower marginalized communities in memory keeping. The second will describe using augmented reality, archival records, and GIS to create a walking tour of the forced removals of Black people in Cape Town, South Africa's District Six under apartheid that integrates physical spaces with virtual documentary evidence to reinvent the embodied and affective experience of the walking tour, while exploring its potential for application to other contexts of forced removal, recovered and contested memory, and ongoing justice-seeking efforts. The third will discuss approaches to collaborative outreach that involve multiple institutions as well as activists acting as curators for an exhibit on LGBTQIA+ Collections in Texas to connect and engage multiple generations, give voices to those who have been excluded historically, and connect institutions and long working activists connections with younger audiences.

Saturday June 18th, 3:30-4:30pm @ the NEST, Great Hall North, UBC

One drop at a time – How to put out the fire in museums and archives, a Haida perspective.

Lucy Sdahl K'awaas Bell is a passionate Haida museologists, language revitalizer and Haida nerd with a passion for learning from her Ancestors. She has over 20 years experience in museums and archives. With her at the helm, the Haida have repatriated over 500 ancestral remains and many archival resources.

Lucy was the inaugural Head of the Indigenous Collections and Repatriation Department at the Royal BC Museum. She co-wrote the Indigenous Repatriation Handbook, advocated for the digitization and distribution of the 18,000 historic Indigenous photographs and brought a spiritual care practice to the museum and archives.

In her farewell speech, she graciously called out the museum for racism, launching an investigation and internal work to address the problem. She received the Sterling Prize for Controversy for her actions.

Lucy is passionate about learning and bringing her Haida knowledge to her academic world. She is a distinguished UVIC Alumna, having a Cultural Resource Management certificate and a MA in language revitalization. She is currently a SFU PhD Candidate focusing on Haida museology.
