Caring for Family Belongings

Do you have baskets, hats, weavings, that you would like to learn how to store and clean? Also, with clothing moths becoming more of an issue with warming climates how can clothing/weavings be protected? Join us for an evening with the Museum of Anthropology's Senior conservator Heidi Swierenga for a workshop and discussion on caring and storing family belongings.

Presenter: Heidi Swierenga is MOA's Senior Conservator and Head of Collections. She is also part of the Steering Group for the Indigenous Internship Program co-run by Musqueam, MOA, the Haida Museum, the U'mista Museum, the Squamish-Lil'wat Cultural Centre, Coqualeetza, and the Nlaka'pamux Nation.

First Nations Coordinator Job Description:

In 2025 the Invictus Games will take place on the traditional territories of the Líl'wat Nation (Líl'wat Nation), xʷməθkʷəy̓əm (Musqueam), Skwxwú7mesh (Squamish), and Səliłwətaʔ/Selilwitulh (Tseil-Waututh). In the spirit of truth and reconciliation, the Invictus Games 2025 are dedicated to respecting territorial protocols and cooperating with local Indigenous communities in the planning, execution, and participation of the Games and are committed to making a meaningful contribution to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) Calls-to-Action.

Reporting to the CEO and their Executive Assistant, the purpose of this role is to provide leadership, cultural expertise with First Nations relations across the country with a strong focus on the local four Host Nations, consultation, and guidance to lead the development and implementation of a Reconciliation Framework and Action Plan for the 2025 Invictus Games bid.

Immediately, this role will be responsible for coordinating the four Host First Nations and the 2025 IG Organizing Committee as well as the RFP process for Indigenous Iconography and should be ready to hit the ground running upon hire.

Applicants must have: an experienced background working with Indigenous communities (particularly with Lil'wat, Musqueam, Squamish, and Tseil-Waututh), cultures, and practices; network building and relationship management skills; and strong knowledge of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission Calls to Action.

Individual Responsibilities:

1. Day to day support to the CEO and their Executive Assistant including calendar management, preparation and retrieval of papers, expenses management, message taking and first line response to calls and enquiries.
2. Assist the CEO's Executive Assistant with calendar and travel, including booking of meetings, international transportation arrangements and liaison with external organizations, supporters and others at the highest level including Federal Government and major corporations and partners.
3. Ensure efficient hosting of meetings, including visitors to the organization for the CEO and other senior staff. For example, hospitality, room bookings, preparation of audio-visual equipment or papers and Powerpoint presentations where necessary, ensuring the organization is represented in a courteous and welcoming manner. Support to the organizational staff meetings (and others as required) including minute taking, preparation and distribution of papers, audio visual requirements, etc.

Start Date: ASAP

End Date: February 28th, 2025

Salary Range: $50,000-$60,0000

For interested candidates, please apply through submitting resume and cover letter to HR@InvictusGames2025.ca with "FIRST NATIONS COORDINATOR" in the subject line by Monday, April 3rd, 2023

THE UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA
Okanagan Campus | Syilx Okanagan Nation Territory
Vancouver Campus | Musqueam Traditional Territory

Story poles of UBC's Okanagan campus representing the seven member communities of the Okanagan Nation Alliance

Call for Indigenous artists or illustrators

Background:

There is a vibrant and growing Indigenous student community at The University of British Columbia's two campuses, with the Vancouver campus located on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territory of the Musqueam people, and the Okanagan campus located on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territory of the Syilx Okanagan Nation.

As UBC's prospective undergraduate student recruitment marketing team, we produce a number of items to support UBC's Indigenous student recruitment team in their work to engage, attract, and welcome Indigenous students to UBC.

We have partnered with pipikwan pêhtâkwan to develop a sub-brand to support our Indigenous recruitment efforts. The sub-brand will help connect the main University of British Columbia institutional brand with our Indigenous audience.

The opportunity:

We are seeking artists from the Musqueam Indian Band and Syilx Okanagan Nation to develop the brand themes identified by pipikwan pêhtâkwan into logos and graphic elements that can be used on the communication materials used for prospective Indigenous student recruitment.

Interested artists are invited to review the 2022 Indigenous Handbook for examples of our previous work. Digital copies are available online here, and physical copies can be requested by emailing amy.gibson@ubc.ca.

Scope of work and deliverables:

The selected artist(s) will work with the design team at pipikwan pêhtâkwan to develop creative assets that make up the new sub-brand. The work and deliverables outlined as part of this project that the selected artist(s) will work on include:

- Collaborating with pipikwan pêhtâkwan on concepts and direction.
- Designing a logo and graphic elements inspired by the concepts and themes identified by pipikwan pêhtâkwan (see attached sketches and colour palette).
- Supplying final deliverables, including digital illustrations that align with the visual direction.

The design will need to work alongside the existing UBC brand and represent our two host nations, the Musqueam Indian Band and the Syilx Okanagan Nation.

UBC will retain exclusive use rights for this artwork to be used indefinitely as part of our recruitment of prospective Indigenous students. The artist(s) can showcase this work on their personal website or in their portfolio, but it cannot be used for commercial purposes.

Remuneration:

The production team has allocated a budget of up to $6,500 for the artist(s) selected for this project.

How to apply:

Artists from the Musqueam Indian Band and the Syilx Okanagan Nation wishing to learn more about this opportunity are invited to supply an expression of interest as follows:

- Contact Chloe Erlendson, Recruiter Advisor for Indigenous Students: chloe.erlendson@ubc.ca
- Provide a brief summary of your experience along with appropriate portfolio if available (links to websites are acceptable)
- Indicate your fee structure

While a portfolio is requested with your submission, Musqueam and Syilx students and alumni of UBC looking to establish themselves as artists or illustrators are encouraged to apply.

Timelines:

- Expressions of interest are requested by April 14, 2023
  - All artists will be contacted by April 21, 2023, with the successful candidates being briefed on the project the week of April 24.
  - First draft/sketches are requested by May 15, 2023, with feedback from UBC due by May 19, 2023.
  - Revisions are requested by June 9, 2023, with feedback from UBC due by June 15, 2023.
  - Additional revisions may be required depending on the scope of the feedback, with final artwork required for early July 2023.

Contact:

For additional information about this opportunity please contact Chloe Erlendson at chloe.erlendson@ubc.ca.
